Was that a bird? A plane? Superman? No, but it was the first government documented UFO sighting in the world! The first indication of this mysterious occurrence would come from local residents who noticed strange orange lights in the sky on the night of October 4, 1967. Most witnesses agreed that there were four orange lights that evening. Five teenagers watched these lights flash in sequence, and then suddenly dive at a 45-degree angle toward the water's surface. The witnesses were surprised that the lights did not dive into the water, but seemed to float on the water, approximately one-half mile from the shore. Learn more about this event at the Shag Harbour UFO Crash site, where visitors can see a unique lobster sculpture, a giant lobster chair, and the spot where the UFO crashed into the ocean. There is also a sign that explains the events of that night.
